Part of American Days 2018:

Baden-Württemberg as the Birthplace of Forensic Ballistics: How a 19th Century Württemberg Murder is Connected to American History.

Presentation and talk between Ann Marie Ackermann, American author of "Death of an Assassin": The true story of the German murderer who died defending Robert E. Lee, and Volker Schäfer, a German ballistics technician.

The assassination of Mayor Rieber on the streets of Bönningheim in 1835 not only broke several criminal records, it became entwined with American history. The speakers will talk about the 19th century Germany's coldest case ever solved, the birth of forensic ballistics and international intrigue.

A cooperation among the Deutsch-Amerikanisches Zentrum Stuttgart and the Landeskriminalamt Baden-Württemberg (LKA BW)
